Premium Channels

William H. Macy Is Shameless When it Comes to Showtime

Showtime and acclaimed Emmy Award-winning television and film producer John Wells are bringing Shameless, the long running British series to American television starring Emmy Award-winner and Oscar-nominee William H. Macy. For the U.S. version, the sprawling Gallagher family has been transplanted to working class Chicago during the challenging times of today's recession. Macy will play the struggling patriarch, trying to hold things together, while his 18-year-old daughter does most of the parenting. Shameless will air on Showtime, Waitsfield Cable channels 220 and 420 in HD. Shooting for the pilot begins this month.

Mad River Valley TV

The World Is A Stage, and Valley Students Are Filling It!

This fall, Mad River Valley Television access producers have been in the schools catching all the wonderful happenings on stage. From full-blown theatrical productions like the HUHS presentation of Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," to a Warren Elementary upper units spirited production of "Frankenstein Slept Here." Although due to some copyright restrictions, MRVTV does not cablecast all these final productions, the station supports enhancing and advancing the community's cultural opportunities by providing videotape documentation.

One of the most touching shows was presented at a Waitsfield all-school assembly dedicated to the many volunteers for the Waitsfield PTA, who raise major funds for the school through the annual Ski & Skate Sale, a marathon endeavor. And of course the annual Harwood Variety show to raise money for the acclaimed music department is hugely popular and showcases the amazing range of talent in our high school and beyond.

All of these productions are available for a nominal fee from the staff at MRVTV, so you can share anything you missed with family and friends. Most of these fabulous productions were shot by family and friends of the participants.

If you are interested in volunteering and helping out behind a camera documenting your favorite thespian or poet, let us know. It's easy, and we will train you. For more information, contact Alex Maclay, Station Manager, or Tony Italiano, Technical Director/Media Manager, at 583-4488 (44TV) or by email at tv@mrvtv.com. You can also stop by our studio offices in the Red building in Bridge St. Marketplace, right down from the new tea shop and restaurant, MINT, at 4429 Main St. You can also find us on the web at www.mrvtv.com, or call our 24-hour hotline @ 583-4747 for current program times.

Above: Waitsfield School students read their thank-you poems to the PTA in appreciation of the 30th Annual Ski & Skate Sale's success.
